

Internet security is bad enough without intentional back-doors being built into its infrastructure. Please don't further jeopardize our privacy in this fashion.